KENTUCKY WILL NOT LOSE CONGRESSMEN

Kentucky is not to lose a member of Congress, if present plans are carried out, and they probably will be. The House committee on the census, of which Representative Siegel, of New York, is chairman, is planning to take up the reapportionment of new members under the 1920 census at a meeting of the committee. This committee, in the last Congress, reported a bill providing for the same number of members as in the present House. But, because some States had grown more than others, the retention of the same number caused a decrease in the membership of some States and an increase in others. Such a storm of protest was aroused by the cutting down of the representation in these States that the bill was abandoned and no change was made in the old representation.

States which gain in membership would have to be redistricted or elect from the present districts and the additional member or members could be chosen by the State at large until such time as the Legislature might redistrict the State. But Kentucky would be spared this necessity, as the present districts in all probability would remain untouched.

It was very largely because of the situation in Kentucky that the plan of retaining the present membership of 435 in the House was defeated in the last Congress. It was feared that by reducing the number of members at a time when the legislature was not in session to redistrict the State, all the members would have to be elected at large and the State might become solidly Democratic. So the plan was abandoned.

A GEM FROM THE CONGRESSIONAL RECORD

Senator Fletcher (Dem., Fla.) was making an argument against the Senate recess. He said: Let us stay here until we get through," then added:

"That suggests a story I read once about an Englishman who, walking along the street in Boston, observed, in front of a restaurant, a carte de jour which had on it, 'Beefsteak, 50 cents.' He was a little hungry, so he walked in and took his seat at a table. Soon a girl with a black skirt and a white shirtwaist and a white apron appeared to take his order. He said, 'I want some beefsteak.' The girl replied, being from Boston, 'The beefsteak is all over.' He, being an Englishman, responded, 'All over what?' She, in true Boston style, answered, 'All over with.'"

"I say, let us stay here and do the things we should do until we get it all over with."

DENIES GRAFT REPORT

Immigration Commissioner Frederick A. Wallis declared that he had been misquoted in the newspapers regarding graft at Ellis Island.

"There is graft there," he said, "but it is small and not widespread. The statements credited to me that this graft amounts to $500,000 are ridiculous. I believe the employees as a whole are honest and true as steel."

U. S. USCO TREAD

Here is the U. S. Usco Tread, with a long-established standard of service among motorists who have an eye to value, as well as to price. While selling for less than the other tires in the U. S. Fabric line, the Usco has earned a reputation for quality and dependable economy which is not exceeded by any tire in its class.

The standard tire likes nothing better than to prove its service

PEOPLE used to be secretly envious of the young fellow who came tearing up the street and stopped his car with a jerk.

Now they are inclined to criticize such abuse of tires. A mark of the growing consciousness about tires—their service, their work, their value.

This same respect for a good tire is the reason why the four-square tire dealer has passed up odds and ends, "job lots", "seconds", "cut prices"—and come out squarely with the standard quality service of U. S. Tires.

He is getting a bigger, and also better, tire business than he ever had before.

He is dealing now with his own kind of people. The substantial citizen. The man who knows that you can't get something for nothing. The steady customer—not the bargain hunter.

To the man who has not yet learned the standard tire service he is entitled to we say—

Go to the dealer in U. S. Tires and make him show you.

Here is a man in close touch with one of the 92 U. S. Factory Branches—a constant supply of fresh, live U. S. Tires.

The U. S. Tire you buy is a tire built for current demands. No overproduction. No piling up of stock. No loss of mileage by hanging around on the dealer's racks.

Every way you look at it, a par quality tire at a net price.

STREAM GOES DRY; STOPS BAPTISM

When Elder F. D. Wharton led more than 100 converts to the water, there was no water.

That might have been the story. The drought has forced the postponement of the immersion of more than 100 persons who professed faith in a revival at Sardis, Mason county.

Plans were being made for open air baptism exercises when the extreme airiness reigning in the section, evaporated the stream in which the sins of the 100 were to have been cleansed.

A few of the converts have been baptized in pools in churches in the neighborhood.

Hall's Catarrh Medicine

Those who are in a "run down" condition will notice that Catarrh bothers them much more than when they are in good health. This fact proves that while Catarrh is a local disease, it is greatly influenced by constitutional conditions. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a tonic and blood purifier, and acts through the blood upon the mucous surfaces of the body, thus reducing the inflammation and restoring normal conditions. All druggists. CONGRESSMAN PLEADS FOR 2.75 PER CENT BEER

A plea for 2.75 per cent. barley beer was made before the Joint Congressional Commission on Agriculture by R. A. Jones, representing Minnesota grain dealers, and Charles Kennedy, representing a Minnesota farmer elevators' association.

Mr. Jones estimated that malt beer legislation would mean an addition of $300,000,000 a year to Northwestern farmers, and suggested a testing squad under the Department of Agriculture to establish that 2.75 beer was non-intoxicating. Mr. Kennedy, who comes from the district of Representative Volstead, author of the prohibition enforcement law, said he wanted barley beer legalized, as it could be demonstrated to be non-intoxicating.

BACK TO NORMAL

You hear so much about the time when retail prices get back to normal. They are getting back as quickly as they can. You can expect prices in the stores to get back to normal when railroad rates are 2c a mile; when a ticket to the movies cost a dime; when cooks work for three bucks a week; when telephones cost $1 a month; when your gas for your Ford sells for a dime; when frying size chickens sell for a quarter, when—but what's the use of going any further?
